WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING

“For those interested in building career pathways systems at the community level to help young people acquire the academic, technical, and professional skills needed to get launched in our increasingly complex and challenging labor market, Hans Meeder has produced an eminently readable and comprehensive guidebook and resource. Highly recommended!”

Bob Schwartz, Senior Research Fellow
Harvard Graduate School of Education, co-author of Pathways to Prosperity and co-founder of the Pathways to Prosperity Network

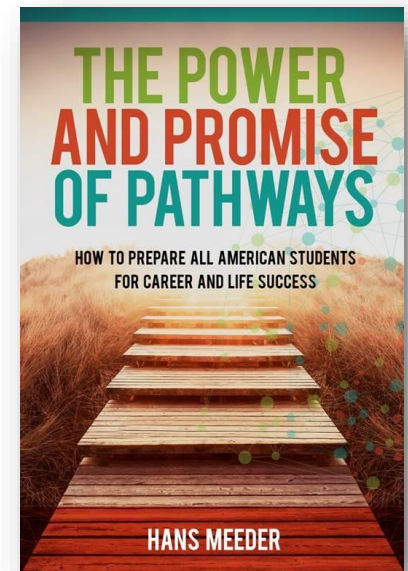

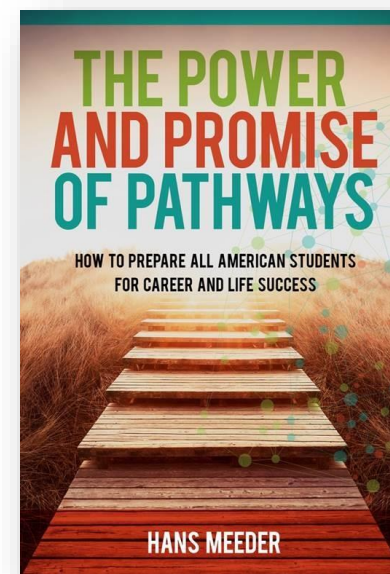

WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING

“This book is a great resource for schools and districts implementing the academy model. Hans has pulled together the research and best practices from all across the country to serve as a guide for this important and difficult work.”

Dr. Jay Steele, School Improvement Consultant
Former Chief Academic Officer, Metro Nashville Public Schools

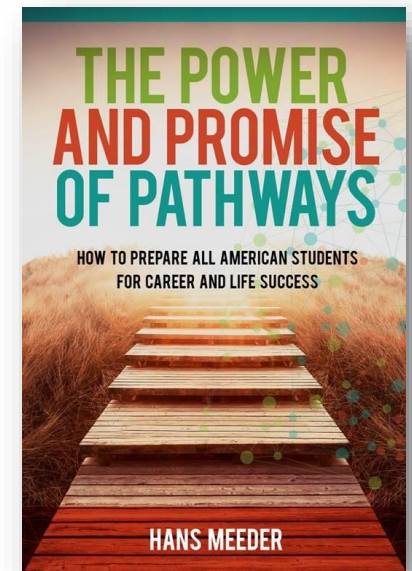

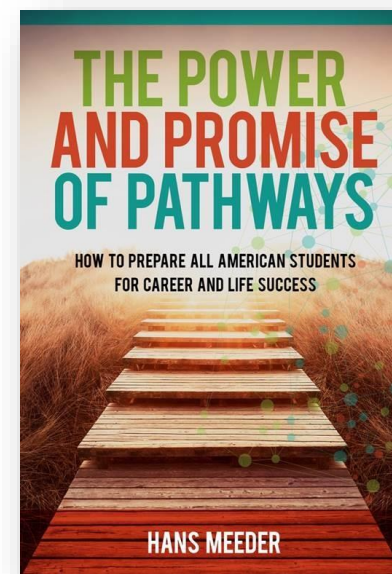

WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING

“In this important work of preparing students for college, career and life, none of us have the luxury of failing our youth. Hans has drawn on his experience and relationships to provide an incredibly comprehensive and yet easy to navigate guide to help individuals, foundations, districts and employers engage in this complex work. This book is for everyone interested in supporting education.”

Cheryl Carrier, Executive Director
Ford Next Generation Learning

Frequently Asked Questions about Pathways-Part 2

Posts / October 20, 2016

A few weeks ago, I talked about two of the most frequently asked questions I receive about Pathways – whether students can change their pathway and if a pathways program is inappropriately asking a teen to make a career decision. ...
